The piece of music composed by Mrs. Lyles, President of the John nument Association, which she sang during her stay here, made a profound impression upon Rev. Dr. Gullins, as well as others. The Dr. became so deeply impressed that he took the composition, "Lost after all." on Sunday 28th ult., morning as his theme and presched from Ezek. 31:11. "Our line of the core after wrong doings in high and low places. It was a sermon that will not be soon forgotten by all who

Moses, the deliverer, sent the plagues in Egypt and are witnesses of God's earnest efforts to save Israel.

The quails, the smitten rock and the manna from heaven—all are evidences showing how faithfully and earnestly God moved to saved them. Notwithstanding the constant evidences of God's goodness and care for them they murmured and became a rebellious rily were buried in a strange land.

The prophet Ezekiel had a vision. He thought he was carried into a valley where the ground was covered with dead men's bones, and he walked about among the bones and looked on them, but were dry. Then said God them, but were dry. Then said God unto Ezekiel, "Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel," "Behold," they say, "our bones are the whole house are the whole and our hope is lone, are the whole whole agree worm, and our hope is lone, and our hope is a great stage, and every man, race and nation is pushed upon it to play, each its part.

Large Baptizings - Personals and Briefs.

Sunday, July 12th, great interest was manifested in the religious services at the several churches. Early in the morning the people could be seen rushing to the 2nd Baptist Church to with ness the ordinance of baptism by Re Z. D. Lewis, B. D., who administer Z. D. Lewis, B. D., who administered the sacred rite to over fifty persons. The church was packed to its uttermost capacity. Rev. Lewis very appropriately admonished the people about being on time to such service, while they were generally late to other morning services and many did not at all. The services were very solomy and impressive. Again in the A Methodist Divine Makes a Sermon out of Mrs. Lyle's Composition "Lost af-

I read in the Christian Standard that Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A., St. Louis, Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A., St. Louis, Mo., would give an elegant plated hook spoon to any one sending her ten 2-cent stamps. I sent for one and found it so useful that I showed it to my friends, and made $13 in two hours, taking orders for the spoon. The hook spoon is a household necessity. It can not slip into the dish or cooking vessel, being held in the place by a hook on the back. The spoon is something housekeepers have needed ever since appoins were first invented. Any one spoons were first invented. Any one can get a sample spoon by sending ten 2-cent stamps to Miss Fritz. This is a splendid way to make money around splendid way to make money around Mr. Scott; the Elder making twenty-

We see that Marable had to die a very disgraceful death, by being in bad company, and it seems he had to bad company, and it seems he had to die for some one else's crime. He not only went himself but carried many others into great trouble with him even almost unto death itself. One of many things we can learn in the Pollard case is that it is the principle of the white man not to take a statement from a colored man against a white man.

Marshle was a solved man against the first principle of the white man who recently traveled through the sum of the colored man against a white man.
